Senior Class President's Message

"Make new friends, but keep the old;
Those are silver, these are gold."

As we depart from Hartford High School, we are filled with joy, but still a tinge of sadness finds its way into our hearts. Never again, shall the Class of '54 meet together as a complete unit. We shall, however, have fond memories of life's best years and as we take our places in this troubled world, our one hope and prayer is that we shall be successful in our chosen fields - and a credit to Hartford High.

To our parents, Teachers and friends, we say a most sincere "thank you" for the sacrifices, training and sound advice - always cheerfully given - sometimes not too graciously received.

In a sense, graduation means "farewell." We have finished the prescribed courses of study in our beloved school. But, to the Class of '54 - it is only a stepping stone - a challenge - to things greater and more lofty. Hartford High School; we will not let you down! Need I say more!

Sincerely,
Edward Dailey

Appreciation

To Mr. Cate, in appreciation for the knowledge and experiences he has brought to us in his classes, activities, and personal favors, the class of 1954 wishes to express its sincere gratitude.

Dedication

We, the class of 1954, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Gates. The time which he has spent with us in talking over our problems and helping us make those decisions concerning our future has been his own time. His welcome smile, wonderful personality, and interest in others has been the keystone to the success he shares with us. Our thanks to you, Mr. Gates, for your interest in us.

A decorative graphic consisting of a white rectangular box with a black border, containing the text 'Table of Contents'. Below the box is a thick black horizontal bar. From the right side of this bar, a diagonal line extends towards the bottom left corner of the page. This diagonal line is composed of three parallel lines: a thick black line on the outside, a thin white line in the middle, and another thick black line on the inside. The text 'Table of Contents' is in a black, italicized serif font.

This yearbook's purpose is to instill in the minds of the students the best years of their lives - high school. There were many things that happened this year that should be remembered by everyone. The yearbook staff just hopes that this book will help all do that and hopes that it will be enjoyed by all who read it.

Student Council President's Message

To many of us, graduation seems like the end of everything, but actually it is only the beginning of our lives. Some of our happiest moments have occurred here, and though we can never recapture them, they will always remain in our hearts.

Through our highschool years we have learned to be better citizens. We have a say in the way our school is run by sending representatives to the Student Council. The work, the play, and the friendships made all combine to make these years memorable ones.

I would like to thank everyone who has helped to make my term of office a pleasant one, and to next year's Student Council I wish every success.

Sincerely,
Mary-Lou Gould

Our European Classmate
Eckhard Muhlhauser

As an exchange student from Germany, Eckhard Muhlhauser brought to Hartford High School a lasting friendship and a clear understanding of our European neighbors. Whether he was testing the American slang or just thinking, the smile was always in his eyes and on his lips.
